The Doteasy Domain Privacy Protection service protects your contact information from public view. Domain owners are required to provide contact information to the domain registry. This information is publicly listed in the registry's WHOIS database for the purpose of identifying the owners of each domain. With Domain Privacy Protection service, we'll make your contact information private, shielding you from spam, telemarketing, and fraud.

You'll still be the owner of the domain, but anyone wanting to contact you using the WHOIS information will need to get through Doteasy first.
